Leadership Public Schools ("LPS") is a non-profit charter school development organization founded in 2002 to serve diverse students throughout California with a network of outstanding charter high schools. LPS schools serve ethnically and economically diverse student bodies and are located in or near low-income neighborhoods. LPS schools focus on providing considerable academic and technical support to students, a rigorous college preparatory curriculum, and a program to instill in the students the skills and lifelong commitment to be leaders in their communities.

LPS strives to make our schools a rewarding place to work, teach, and learn by actively fostering a professional learning community for staff, students and families that exemplify our values of commitment, respect, responsibility, valuing our students and employees and harnessing the power of our network to create a larger learning community. We operate four schools in Richmond, Oakland, Hayward, and San Jose, CA.
